

YOUNG
DIABETOLOGISTS

NHS LondonDeanery
London

Diabetes and Endocrinology Taster Evening 9 February 2012 (1800-2030) The Royal College of Physicians, London.

Programme

1800-1845 Wine reception and registration

1845-2000 Medley of brief talks

Welcome-Claire Feeney

A career in Diabetes and Endocrinology/clicker questionnaire

[Karim Meeran, Professor of Diabetes and Endocrinology]

YDF Showcase

[Roselle Herring, YDF Committee]

Life as a Diabetes/Endo Consultant.

[Dr John Quin, Consultant in Diabetes and Endocrinology, Royal Sussex County Hospital, Brighton]

Combining a rewarding career and family life. It is possible!

[Prof Marta Korbonitis]

A day in the life of a Diabetes/Endocrine trainee

[Paul Grant, Specialist Registrar]

Flexible training & Endocrinology. A marriage made in heaven

[Claire Feeney, Specialist Registrar]

Research opportunities – they are aplenty

[Channa Jayasena, Specialist Registrar]

The next steps – securing a training place in Diabetes and Endo

[Dr Dipesh Patel, Consultant in Diabetes and Endocrinology, UCH]

2000-2030 Meet the faculty and drinks

[Opportunities will be provided for delegates to meet current trainees/faculty and also to gain exposure to modern diabetes technologies such as insulin pumps]

2030 Dinner

YOUNG

DIABETOLOGISTS

NHS LondonDeanery
London

Diabetes and Endocrinology Taster Evening 9 February 2012 (1800-2030) The Royal College of Physicians, London.

What is it?

An opportunity to gain an overview on specialist training in Diabetes and Endocrinology. Delivered by senior trainees, consultants and academics, topics covered include:

- Planning your medical career in the era of diabetes and obesity epidemic.
- Endocrinology and diabetes in the outpatient setting.
- Endocrine emergencies and inpatient diabetes.
- Work-life balance and flexible training opportunities.
- Research opportunities in Endocrinology.
- Opportunities to gain organisational and management skills.
- Becoming a specialist in diabetes and endocrinology-practical steps.
- Patient perspectives and demonstration of insulin pumps and other modern technologies.

Who is it for?

Any interested trainees, especially foundation and core medical trainees.

How do I attend?

Simply drop an email to feeneyclaire@hotmail.com

Is there a fee?

No. Welcome drinks and dinner are free too!

Supported by Association of British Clinical Diabetologists (ABCD), Diabetes UK and Society for Endocrinology